

NL SUPPORT Undergraduate Training in Research Award (NUTRA)

STEP II: Student Application

This application is for students seeking to work on a patient-oriented research project funded through the NL SUPPORT Undergraduate Training in Research Award program.

1. Students and supervisors will work together to prepare the application. The supervisor and the student must both be clearly identified on the application, including current email addresses. It is the responsibility of the student to contact potential supervisors directly.
2. In addition to the title and description of the project, which must include details of how the project is patient-oriented, there must be a clear indication of the student's role.
3. It is the responsibility of the supervisor to ensure Ethics Approval (HREA or IACC as appropriate) is in place by the start date of the research project.
4. Supervisors interested in more than one student must indicate their order of preference. Please note that students are only permitted to submit one application.
5. Student requirements:
  - a. Minimum 2nd class standing (average grade of B or above) in their last 20 courses at the time of accepting the award.
  - b. A summary of research experience e.g., degree program and year, prior research experience, skills, etc.
  - c. An essay on your interest in the summer project, including why patient-oriented research interests you, and how it will benefit your career plans.
6. Following completion of the project, students must submit a report to NL SUPPORT outlining the experience and knowledge gained in patient engagement and patient-oriented research.
7. All students working in laboratories at Memorial University are required to complete the Safety 1000 course. Safety 1000 is offered online through D2L at the beginning of each semester for undergraduate and graduate students and provides appropriate training in WHMIS and Laboratory safety. If you completed the course in a previous semester or have evidence that comparable training has been undertaken elsewhere, you do not need to register again.
